About Producer	In 2008, Katy Heath owned a small business importing produce. It was through this that she met a Korean supplier who asked her if she had heard of Korean aged garlic. Katy requested a sample and receiving garlic that, though not quite the same taste as the black garlic produces today, was flavoursome enough to peak her interest.
Directions for use	Use in soups or sauces or add a dollop to your chilli or Bolognese to boost the richness of your flavours.
